 H. L. CHAPMAN, Chairman.

The Southern Kansas have completed a branch road from Chanute to Fredonia.

The congressional association of the state of Kansas, which has just closed its annual session at Topeka, passed a resolution fixing Wichita as the place for the next annual meeting.

The Kansas, Colorado and Texas bonds for $140,000 carried in Chase county. This is the Wichita and Kansas City short line so-called, or the road represented by ex-Senator Long. Upwards of half a million have been now voted to this line.

Governor Martin's majority over Glick in the last campaign for governor was in round numbers forty thousand. His majority is estimated at about the same figures this fall. It would not fall short of fifty thousand but for the fight among the Republicans of the Fifth district where there will be a good deal of cutting and scratching of the whole ticket out of pure spite. Both factions desired Martin's endorsement. He has sensibly refused to take either side, not that he will get more votes thereby, for he won't, but for the sake of the party in the future when the present fight shall have been forgotten.

THE OLD GAME.

Complaint reaches us almost daily of the unfair methods and false representations being resorted to by the opposition to defeat the Republican nominees. It would, in our judgment, prove a waste of time and space to allude to some of the stories set afloat for the reason not one Republican in a hundred in Sedgewick county will be influenced to any considerable extent, certainly not to that extent that he would vote the Democratic ticket under any guise. There is no doubt a class, (but in this county of old ex-slaves the class is very thin in character and weak in numbers) whose members are ever found with the party in power. These will embrace the first opportunity to go over to the Democracy. These will go, excuse or no excuse. But the great body of the Republicans of Sedgewick county are Republicans from principle, not from conviction, from principle. Such Republicans will stand by their nominees, by the action of their party though Democratic misrepresentations were as plentiful as huckleberries.

POPULATION.

Leavenworth county is now, as it always has been, the most populous county in Kansas. Shawnee county stands second. The largest gain made by any Kansas county is that made by Sedgewick. She first took rank in 1870, when, as regards population, she ranked at the forty-eighth place. She now ranks third, having attained that place in fifteen years.—Atchison Champion.

Sedgewick county had on the 30th day of June last 40,989 people. In three months, or since the census was taken, she has increased from three to five thousand. The next census taken by Kansas will show Sedgewick county in the lead. In the judgment of the EAGLE.

TWO STRONG MEN.

The two Js, Jones and Jewett, have proved solid factors in the campaign. The opposition has been made to realize the facts that the people of this county know that when the superintendent of the State Insane Asylum said that Jewett was the best probate judge in the state he told the simple truth. The estates of widows and orphans have been as safely and conscientiously handled by him as he could have handled the property of his own children. The interests of every insane person have been not only carefully looked after but the personal comfort and welfare of such unfortunate as well. As for G. W. C. Jones it turns out that no man ever ran for office in the county who was more popular. He is square, honest and not above his business therefore he has hosts of friends.

PROF. S. D. PENCE.

Professor S. D. Pence, the Republican nominee for county superintendent of public instruction, has been putting in more time with his work among the teachers of the county than in politics. He never knew anything but hard painstaking work. Educating himself and educating others has made up the sum of his life. How few men could have overcome the obstacles, seemingly unsurmountable, in the way he has overcome them. None can fail to admire the man who understands the disadvantages he has been compelled to labor under. Withal he is ever hopeful, sanguine and happy. As an educational man he is energetic, untiringly so, enthusiastic and earnest. As county superintendent of schools he would not waste a moment from the day he was sworn in until the end of his term. Whatever may be said in favor of his scholarly and accomplished opponent none will deny Mr. Pence's eminent fitness and deservings, none deny his modesty and honest worth.

MUNICIPAL INDEBTEDNESS IN KANSAS.

The report of the state auditor of Kansas shows a municipal debt in county bonds and warrants, township bonds and warrants, city bonds and warrants, and school district bonds and warrants, aggregating the sum of $17,779,299.42 for the year ending June 30, 1886. The total indebtedness of the county of Leavenworth is $1,664,320.92; of Atchison $1,014,350; of Douglas $801,216.64; of Shawnee $663,585; of Lyon $473,981; of Cowley $463,843; of Bourbon $461,789; of Sumner $456,932; of Butler $396,359; of Montgomery $394,150; of Riley $368,606; of Johnson $345,200; of Greenwood $313,205; of Doniphan $308,061.32; of Osage $301,950.34. The indebtedness of the city of Leavenworth is $717,566.80; of Atchison $681,650; of Topeka $422,900; of Lawrence $231,450.

Sedgewick county nor Wichita figure among the counties and cities of Kansas having a noticeable indebtedness. How far we as a people are entitled to plume ourselves over this fact, we leave for others to say.

OUR REPRESENTATIVES.

Hatfield, Lawrence and Carpenter are making a splendid canvass this fall. In them Sedgewick county will have a united and energetic delegation, who will work in harmony with Senator Kelly. Hatfield and Lawrence with their past experience, and Carpenter with his youth and activity and with his more than ordinary alert make-up, will let nothing of importance to this city or county escape him. If anything occurs in the lower house this winter, either on the floor, in the committee rooms or in outside caucuses that Arthur Carpenter fails to "catch on to," we miss our guess. It is probably all well enough for old communities to have staid and deliberative representatives on the floor of the house, but our experience has been that for active work and accomplished ends an ambitious young man is the best. As for Arthur Carpenter there are few brighter, more energetic, wide-awake and ambitious young men anywhere, therefore his value in a representative capacity.

Messrs. Lawrence and Hatfield acquitted themselves so satisfactorily last winter that their re-nomination followed as a matter of course, as will their re-election. It would be a great mistake to replace them with any new men however intelligent they may be.

There is something for workingmen to think about in the statement of Chief Arthur, of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, that during the past year the members of that order on ten different roads have appealed for aid to adjust grievances, and that in every instance a peaceful and satisfactory settlement was made, and an increase of wages secured. The explanation lies in the fact, as Chief Arthur tersely and strongly puts it, that, according to the philosophy of the excellent organization over which he presides, "there is no real antagonism between capital and labor, but only between work and idleness."

Mr. Blaine states the case a trifle too strongly, perhaps, when he declares that "we have lived to see negro suffrage in the south absolutely destroyed." It is true that the power of the colored citizens down there to elect a Republican to congress, or to assist in the election of a Republican president, has been completely nullified, but they are still permitted to vote when they are willing to support the Democratic ticket. The difference between this and utter disfranchisement is small, to be sure, but it is worth mentioning, nevertheless.—Globe Democrat.

GOULD'S PROMISES.

Colonel Marsh Murdock and Jay Gould drove over Wichita together the other day. Mr. Murdock asked too much for the town and would not throw in the EAGLE. Mr. Gould did not buy.—Topeka Journal.

There has been no little chaffing indulged in, not to say fun, over what Mr. Gould promised and failed to promise the various towns, during his late visit to the west. Now, Mr. Gould stopped longer at Wichita than any other town in the west, holding his train the second day for more than an hour and a half to enable certain Wichita gentlemen to accompany him. During the day and a half and the two nights spent here and in the vicinity we did not hear of a promise being made by him, and we feel perfectly safe in guessing that he made no promises to any town or the representatives of any town. It ain't like him. He don't do business in that way. He never wastes any breath. Mr. Gould acts. He issued some orders, however, the executing of which will be of greater interest to Wichita than a thousand promises.

As for the rest, of course Mr. Gould did not buy the EAGLE; the EAGLE ain't for sale, and nobody has got money enough to buy it; but Mr. Gould can and does quote the EAGLE more extensively than any other paper in the west—and we honor his good sense—and when we say west we desire to be understood as including Missouri and Kansas City, which city, by the way, never did know to which state she really belonged.

A MEAN USE OF A SPECIAL.

A dispatch was published in this paper Saturday concerning a subscription to the stock of the Chicago & Rock Island road in Kiowa county. It seems that the dispatch has been twisted in its meaning by enemies of Hon. F. E. Gillet, of Kingman, and to his detriment. There was no reflection on that gentleman in the dispatch and none intended. The party who wrote the dispatch did not dream of Mr. Gillet being renounced in his duty, much less ever heard that Mr. Gillet was in any way to blame, either nearly or remotely. There was nothing reflecting on him. If there had been it turns out that both companies had perfect transcripts of the election and commissioners' proceedings, which fact Mr. Gillet knew, and nothing was or could be accomplished by the destruction of the records, which he as well as the attorneys of the Rock Island also knew. No mutilation of the records can effect the status of either of the roads. The mutilation seems to have been made in the interest of a real estate speculation. It would not have been made in the interest of any railroad. At any rate the "negro in the woodpile" has no connection with the railroads or with either of their attorneys, certainly not with Mr. Gillet.

The following dispatch received from Mr. Low shows that the Rock Island officials have no sympathy with the contemptible fight made upon Mr. Gillet, in using an innocent news dispatch to the EAGLE against him:

ATCHISON, Kan., Oct. 25, 1886.—
 Editor of the Eagle.
 The C. & N. company has subscription and copy of record ordered in Kiowa county, and I have reason to suspect, and I do not suspect, the Hon. F. E. Gillet is in any manner responsible for the mutilation of the record. He has acted in the utmost good faith to us in all matters in that county.
 M. A. Low.

THE KNIGHTS OF LABOR.

The EAGLE hopes that the members of the Knights of Labor, at least that portion of them who have been heretofore identified with the Republican party, may have read the contribution from a labor union man appearing in these columns Sunday morning. We hope so from the fact that we have seen from day to day Governor Martin misrepresented, and his action in the strike of last spring most unjustly set out.

It is hardly necessary to call attention to the fact that during Gov. Martin's administration, and at his recommendation, five and one-half of the demands made in the Knights of Labor platform have become laws in the State of Kansas.

When the strike was at its height the strikers, through their executive committee, and Grand Master Workman Powderly, tried by every means to peacefully and equitably settle their difficulty. That the efforts of the men and their executive officers were a failure is shown by the following:

"Having failed in my attempt to bring the parties together," said Mr. Powderly, "I shall now allow matters to take their course. Tomorrow I shall go to Chicago, and thence to Canada or the east to attend to other business."

Then it was that Governor Martin stepped to the front on behalf of the citizens of Kansas and investigated the trouble by personal inquiry, and as a result submitted the following:

St. Louis, March 30, 1886.

H. M. HOOD, Vice-President Missouri Pacific Railroad Company.
 DEAR SIR: On the 19th inst. the undersigned met at Kansas City to discuss the very serious condition of affairs in the states of Kansas and Missouri, growing out of the late strike on the lines of the Missouri Pacific railway, and the resulting obstruction to the commerce of the two states.

While at Kansas City we were visited by a delegation of your late employees, and after discussing with them the various phases of the strike, we consented to visit you and urge a continuation of the terms of the agreement made on the 15th of March, 1885, and, if deemed advisable, recommend such modifications of said agreement as might be thought just to all concerned.

On the 15th of March, 1885, the undersigned, with other state officers of Missouri and Kansas, presented to Captain Hayes, then first vice-president of the Missouri Pacific Railway company, the following suggestions:

First—That the company restore to striking employees in Missouri and Texas the same wages paid them in September, 1885, including one-half time for overtime worked; and Second—To restore all striking employees to their several employments, without prejudice to them on account of said strike.

This was accepted by the railroad company, and was deemed by all parties to be the best settlement obtainable. That the strike did not cease at this juncture was not his fault. What more could any man do than Gov. Martin did? Just as far as the official jurisdiction of Gov. Martin went, he employed it for the peace and

WELFARE OF THE EMPLOYEES.

To the full extent of his private personal influence he did what he could to advance the wages and interests of the employees.

DERBY.

The Republicans of Rockford township met in convention at the Central school house in response to the call of the committee, and after electing John Tucker chairman and Denton Cole secretary, put in nomination the following officers:

For Trustee, C. Pittman; for Clerk, J. F. Law; for Treasurer, H. H. Snyder; for Justices, A. Minnich and E. F. Osborne; for Constables, N. Strode and James Hellar; for Road Overseer—First district, N. Vandozen; Second district, Henry Stine; Third district, A. J. Noble; Fourth district, J. M. Bradford.

Moved and carried that the secretary send the report to the Wichita EAGLE for publication. BENTON COLE, secretary.

BURDEN NOTES.

To the Editor of the Eagle:
 Your correspondent had the pleasure of visiting this thriving little burg one day last week, and we were indeed surprised to find so many well filled and commodious business houses, in a town which has the competition of the county seat, Winfield, situated directly west of it. The business interests of the town comprises some forty or fifty different firms, representing all classes of trade. Three solid banking institutions two flourishing newspapers, and two hotels.

Burden became a town with the building of the Lawrence and Kansas Southern railroad, and was incorporated about five years ago, since then its growth has been steady, sure and substantial, and has now a population of between ten and twelve hundred. Many of the store buildings, including a very pretty hall or opera house are constructed with the celebrated Cowley county stone, which gives the town a most solid and substantial appearance. The sidewalks and guttering along the main business street are also substantially laid with this superior stone. Burden is very fortunately located and commands the trade of a large territory, extending to the state line on the south, and for nearly as great a distance on the north. At present the citizens are thoroughly aroused and anxious for the building of the Wichita, Cedarvale & Southeastern railroad, and will do everything in their power to further this splendid enterprise.

The EAGLE is well received here and has a splendid list of subscribers, at least twice as many as any other daily that comes to the town.
